

Immunization Policy

Immunizations are one of the most important advances in pediatric health care. They have dramatically reduced illness and death in children and continue to be the most valuable and effective protections that parents can offer their children from early infancy.

The healthcare team at Horizon Pediatrics Inc. provides evidence-based clinical practice and follows the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) guidelines, policy statements, and routine immunizations schedules designed to protect children from preventable diseases, developmental delays, and health risks. We follow science-backed recommendations, no longer going by government or CDC recommendations.

We believe that it is also our responsibility to keep our community free of potentially life-threatening infectious diseases whenever possible. Being sure that all our patients are uniformly immunized helps to accomplish the ethical obligation.

Please note that we strictly adhere to the recommended guidelines. Our practice may not be a good fit for families who do not intend to follow the recommended AAP guidelines.

We are happy to answer any questions that you have about vaccine preventable illnesses and your child's vaccine schedule.
